Part B.1

Bringing theory into practice, on Sundays 2nd year students of the B.El.Ed Programme facilitate and assist children in various reading activities at Kitabghar set up in Studio Safdar at Shadi Khampur, Delhi

08.09.2016

MIRANDA HOUSE, Delhi University

Assistance by the students of B. El. Ed Programme (II year) linking with the theory paper of Language Across the Curriculum (2015-16)

PLEASE REPORT AT STUDIO SAFDAR on Sundays at 9.45am

09.45 ... Session of Instructions

10.00 ... Observe children as they come into the library space and settle down.

10.15 to 10.30 ... Teacher trainees are assigned 2 or 3 children of similar age/reading ability. Let the children browse a book of their choice. You may also help out with the reading.

10.30 to 11.00 ... Select a book. This can be a choice of the children or the teacher trainee can bring it with her. Spend time with this book. Do interactive reading. Read the text as well as focus on the illustrations. Engage the children in a conversation of the story, the characters etc. Then read out ONLY the text slowly. You may have to do this twice. Use your own sense.

11.00 to 11.30 ... Arrange the papers and crayons. Each child gets one sheet of paper. Each group shares a box of crayons. Ask each child to either name a few characters of the story or say one or two things about the story. The teacher trainee writes this in big letters for each child. Children draw accordingly. Discourage actual copying of the book illustrations. But let them see it.
