

Dr. Pratibha Sharma is the Teacher in charge of the Philosophy Department in Miranda House. She is an Associate Professor in the Department of Philosophy. She has done her Ph. D. from Punjab University, Chandigarh in Epistemology. Her specialization includes Logic, Philosophy of Science and Epistemology. She has been a Research Fellow with Indian Council of Philosophical Research for her research. She has authored one book and several articles in different areas of Philosophy published in reputed journals. She has presented research papers and delivered talks for invited lectures in various National and International Seminars and Conferences

Dr. Sharma has been teaching Philosophy in Miranda House for the past 17 years. Before this, she was teaching in different colleges of Delhi University. She with her team has accomplished an Innovation Project titled 'Business Ethics: Business Leadership in Bhagavad Gita'. The project was awarded for display in Delhi University. She has been a part of the Indo-Dutch Collaborative Students Exchange Programme. She also initiated the NSDC courses at Miranda House. She taught in NSUT and is now associated with JNV University, Jodhpur for academic concerns. Dr. Pratibha Sharma has convened the functioning of Vivekananda Society in its initial stage and has advised Students Union in her capacity of the Union Staff Advisor. She is the convener of the VAC courses under NEP and has conducted workshops for the same.