

SNAPSHOTS, THE PHOTOGRAPHY SOCIETY

Snapshots, the Photography Society of Miranda House provides a platform for a small dedicated group of aspiring photographers and photography enthusiasts. The society encourages its members to delve into the creative sphere as well as the technicalities of this art form. The 2015 -16 year was quite an exciting one, full of activities. The objective of the society has been to promote photography within the interested students of Miranda House. This has been achieved by going on weekly photo walks, holding meetings frequently and active participation in competitions and workshops across University colleges. Regular team interactions and activities help in building a strong sense of teamwork and joy in learning and sharing. The society has been going for weekly photo walks throughout the year. These photo walks have been diverse in nature. The society visited heritage sites in the city for Architectural Photography, markets for Street Photography and also engaged in Landscape and Portrait Photography. The theme-based photo walks were followed by interactive sessions. This year we went to places like the Humayuns Tomb, Lotus Temple, Safdarjung Tomb, Jantar Mantar, Majnu ka Tila and Dilli Haat.

This year Snapshots collaborated with Campus Diaries as part of their campaign 25 Under 25. The aim of this campaign was to bring together the definitive community of India's brightest young creators and change makers, under the age of 25 and give them a platform to showcase their works.

Snapshots conducted a workshop on Documentary Photography in association with Campus Diaries guided by well-known photographers Vicky Roy and Chandan Gomes. Students from across Delhi University, attended this workshop. Vicky Roy was awarded the MIT Media Fellowship in 2014.

Snapshots extensively covered the annual festival Tempest, 2016. The society members also operated a photo booth in the college during 2 days of the fest.

The Annual Photography Exhibition of Snapshots Multitudo 2016 was held on 10-11 March 2016. Multitudo was a two-day festival with the photography exhibition displaying the works of the society members. The society also conducted workshops on both the days. The first workshop was conducted in association with Canon and eminent travel photographer, Jassi Oberai, conducted the second workshop. The workshops were open events and were followed by interactive sessions with the professional photographers.
