From Campus to COP17: Your Voice for Biodiversity

CHANCE TO CONTRIBUTE TO GLOBAL BIODIVERSITY CONCERNS

Dear IUCN CEC Members,

GYBN, the Global Youth Biodiversity Network, is inviting youth to contribute to two global surveys ahead of the CBD COP17 in Armenia this October.

We invite IUCN CEC members to participate and/or pass these along to youth and young professionals in your networks.

Youth as Implementers: A global survey to gather and map youth actions for biodiversity.

All the actions recorded here would be a part of GYBN's different actions and efforts to highlight youth contributions to the KM-GBF at COP17 and beyond. This is a space for young people to make their actions seen and heard.

Responses requested by mid-September.

How Education Shapes Our Power to Act: A youth survey/consultation on transformative education to understand where their environmental and climate education comes from, how it shapes their empathy, connection with nature, sense of justice and self reflection, and whether it helps them question and transform existing systems.

Responses requested by end of August.

Thank you,

IUCN CEC Management Team
